Cory Everett is the Director of Strategic and External Affairs at the Colorado Division of Professions and Occupations, part of the Department of Regulatory Agencies (DORA). In that capacity she advises the Division on legislative, policy, outreach and media matters affecting over 50 professions. Prior to DORA, Cory worked in the private and non-profit sectors, specializing in business and economic development. She is an active member of CLEAR, including currently serving as the Vice-Chair of the Program Committee and leading the Orientation and Onboarding Workgroup. She holds a M.A. in Global Finance, Trade and Economic Integration.

Position Statement:

Dear CLEAR Members,

It is a privilege to accept the nomination and announce my candidacy to serve on the Board of Directors for the Council on Licensure, Enforcement and Regulation (CLEAR). Today, I along with my regulatory counterparts nationally and internationally, face the challenge to create economically defensible regulations that keep pace with changes to the delivery of regulated services. In a constantly changing environment and market driven by social media, mobile devices and instant access to information, perception is reality. I am committed to advancing the face of today’s regulator: one that is fiscally responsible, data-driven, compassionately responsive, and cutting-edge in the use of technology to inform and protect.

Having experienced firsthand the value of CLEAR resources and membership as a new regulator at my first conference in Nashville, I quickly became an active contributor to CLEAR through a variety of endeavors. Included in those are co-chairing the Program Committee, chairing the Orientation and Onboarding Workgroup, co-chairing the Legislation, Administration and Policy Subcommittee, and presenting at multiple annual conferences and webinars. My enthusiasm for the organization and its esteemed members has grown through each of those engagements.

As the premier forum for regulatory excellence, CLEAR is positioned to serve its members to meet and exceed demands to create efficiency while remaining socially relevant. As a Board Member, I intend to lead efforts to sharpen CLEAR services that respond to the challenges you face today through evidence-based resources and compelling communication strategies. I respectfully request your support for my candidacy and invite you to engage with us in these crucial conversations.